

Pilgrims' Landing To Be Celebrated

President Proclaims Celebration of Pilgrim Tercentenary
December 21.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation in which he requests the observance by schools, colleges, and universities of the three-hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims. At the same time he named three members of the United States Pilgrim Tercentenary Commission. Six members had already been appointed by Congress.

On another page of this issue will be found suggestions for the celebration of the Pilgrim Tercentenary.

Notice that the president requests public schools as well as universities to observe the 21st of December. The pageants and plays suggested are easily obtained. The 21st of December is so near Christmas that a combined program could be given.

The text of the proclamation follows:

"My Fellow Countrymen: December 21, next, will mark the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth in 1620. The day will be becomingly celebrated at Plymouth under the auspices of the Plymouth Pilgrim Tercentenary Commission and at other localities in Massachusetts. While this is proper and praiseworthy it seems to me that the influence which the ideals and principles of the Pilgrims with respect to civic liberty and human rights have had upon the formation and growth of our institutions and upon our development and progress as a nation, merits more than a local expression of our obligation, and makes fitting a nation-wide observance of the day.

"I therefore suggest and request that the 21st of December next we observe throughout the Union with special patriotic services, in order that great events in American History that have resulted from the landing of these hardy and courageous navigators and colonists may be accentuated to the present generation of American citizens. Especially do I recommend that the day be fittingly observed in the universities, colleges, and schools of our country, to the end that salutary and patriotic lessons lessons may be drawn from the fortitude and perseverance and the ideals of this little band of church men and women who established on this con-

A. C. A. Present "The Sojourners" In Observance of Landing of Pilgrims.

President Wilson's request that all colleges attempt in some way to observe the Tercentenary Anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims was anticipated by the Association of Collegiate Alumni, Monday, Nov. 8, When they presented at their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Leeson the one-act play, "Sojourners."

The scene was laid in the garden of John Debenham, a Puritan in Leyden, in the year 1620 during the interval between the flight from England and the voyage to America. The characters were taken as follows:
John DebenhamMrs. Leeson
Deborah, his wife.....Miss Blanche Dow
Their Children—

RogerMiss Margaret James
Prudence.....Miss Katherine Helwig
DavidMiss Mabel Arnett
Jan Huidekoper, a native of HollandMiss Mary MacLeod
Franz, his son.....Miss Beatrix Winn
The part of the stern father, John Debenham, who was led by the vision of a new land and a new people where they might worship God as they pleased, was excellently given by Mrs. Leeson.

The wife, Deborah, whose gentle voice and cheery manner recalled the comfort of their old English home was well played by Miss Dow.

Roger, the elder son, whose love of gain led to his remaining in Holland and his disinheritorship, was well interpreted by Miss James.

The younger son, David, whose interest in the new adventure in Amer-

Football Season Ends.

Owing to injuries to the best men on the team and because the squad is so small that eleven uninjured men cannot be picked from it, the athletic committee has been forced to cancel the remainder of this season's football games. In speaking on the subject President Richardson said, "I want it distinctly understood that the disabilities of men on the team alone caused us to cancel the rest of the games. We cannot play football without eleven men and we haven't eleven uninjured football players on the squad."

Miss Hettie M. Anthony was the guest of Miss Callie Varner of St. Joseph at a luncheon and theatre party last week.

School Week to Be Observed Dec. 5-11

Need of Better Schools and the Value of Education Will Be Stressed.

The National Citizens' Conference on Education held in Washington last May voted that the Commissioner on Education should call another similar conference late in the fall of this year for the purpose of discussing the educational situation at that time, legislative measures to be presented to the legislatures of the several States next year, and the means of continuing the fostering of such interest among the people at large and their representatives in legislative bodies as may be necessary to obtain the needed legislation.

After carefully considering the matter, the commissioner has decided that a series of regional conferences would be more effective than one conference for the whole country could be. This will make possible a much larger total attendance and a more practical and detailed discussion of conditions and needs and methods of meeting them in the states of the several sections. The commissioner is, therefore, calling 12 regional conferences, the one for this state is to be held in Kansas City, Missouri, Friday, December 10, morning, afternoon and evening. Other states attending this same conference are: Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Texas.

As a part of the nation-wide campaign for the improvement of the schools and other agencies of education, including larger appropriations for the pay of teachers and for buildings and equipment, the Commissioner of Education is designating the week December 5-11, the first full week in December, as "school week," and is requesting the governors and the chief school officers of the several states and territories to take such action as may be necessary to cause the people to use this week in such way as will most effectively disseminate among the people accurate information in regard to the conditions and needs of the schools, enhance appreciation of the value of education, and create such interest as will result in better opportunities for education and larger appropriations for schools of all kinds and grades.

The commissioner suggests that during this week the public press should give more attention and a

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

Manual Arts.

The class in auto mechanics were greatly disappointed because the weather has not permitted them to make road experiments with their car.

They have been at work grinding valves and pistons, overhauling all the parts, and becoming acquainted with the car in general. This course is very popular among the students.

The enrollment in the Mechanical Drawing class has increased 80 per cent over last year. This shows an increased interest of the students in that department. The classes are running on the two-hour basis for the first time.

Biology.

In Biology 11 each student will report Wednesday with three collections. Types of these collections are—leaves, wood specimens, weed seed, insects, flower books, butterflies, medicinal weeds, seed dispersion, mosses and ferns, woody fungi, tree fruits, etc.

The elementary biology class is taking a series of studies dealing with continuity of life, such as growth and development; conditions for development; significance of sex; reproduction in animals and flowers; and in fancy and parental care as demonstrated in animal life.

Music.

Miss Geneva Wilfley, instructor of piano in the music department, has an enrollment of 40 children, ranging from 6 to 14 years of age. She reports the work is very interesting and she is very enthusiastic about some plans for a class recital to be given in the near future.

There is an urgent call for the renewal of the "Song Contest" which was started last year. At that time several people composed some college songs, which were handed to President Richardson, and are later to be passed on by a committee.

All who did not have a chance then, may show their originality now, in composing either words for a song, or the music. It's a good way to show your college spirit, hence, let everyone try his luck in this contest.

Jerene Neal and Dora Mohler spent Saturday, Nov. 6 in Maryville.

Clarence King and Howard Stewart, former S. T. C. basket ball stars were at the College, Friday, Nov. 5 to see the Tarkio game.

A Merry Heart.

I've toiled with men the world has blessed,
And I've toiled with the men who failed,
I've toiled with the men who strove with zest.
And I've toiled with the men who wailed,
And this is the tale my soul would tell,
As it drifts o'er the harbor bar;
The sound of a sigh doesn't carry well
But the lilt of a laugh rings far.

If you would be heard at all, my lad,
Keep a laugh in your heart and throat;

For those who are deaf to the accent and,
Are alert to the cheerful note.

Keep hold on the cord of laughter's bell;
Keep aloof from the moans that mar;

The sound of a sigh doesn't carry well
But the lilt of a laugh rings far.

The College and the Pilgrims.
By Ethel Armes.

Shall the American colleges and schools let the twenty-first of next December pass without any recognition by pageants, plays, tableaux or ceremonials of any sort?

Are American institutions of learning to permit the Pilgrim Tercentenary to go by unobserved, when for this three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers there have been prepared, as never before, both the materials and the methods of observing the Day by striking community activities?

The opportunity of linking history with drama and pageantry before hundreds of American colleges and schools which can translate to the present day the historic events and episodes of 1620 that are commemorated in this harking back to the great early adventure in Americanism.

The three hundredth anniversary of the first American legislative assembly and of the signing of the Pilgrims' Mayflower Compact will take concrete form thru an extensive program of dramatic activities prepared as early as last winter thru the bureau of educational dramas of Community Service, Incorporated. During 1920 this program has been distributed freely thruout the country to churches, colleges, schools, libraries, clubs and communities.

A spectacle play of exquisite workmanship which includes a pageant of the American universities, and which like the Raleigh masque, is especially adapted to college communities, is "The King's Progress" by Constance Smedley Armfield. This play deals with an incident in the life of the boy king, Edward VI of England, (1548-1543) and with the repeal of the laws which enabled strolling players to spread the New Learning.

It gives a vivid picture of the genesis of freedom in England and the establishment of universal education, and ends with a prediction that the light will spread to the "New Worlds beyond the Seas" in the Mayflower that is building at Southampton. The play is noteworthy for its pure Tudor English and its picturization of historical data.

It also incorporates speeches from contemporary writings and letters of Edward VI and of his sisters, Mary and Elizabeth, of Sir Thomas Elyot, Ascham, Sir John Choke, and John Bale. The action is swift and varied. An English folk dance festival is introduced together with a song of Henry VIII and a Pavane. It includes also a spectacle in which are represented the American Universities. The play may be given indoors or outdoors. It is not, however, suited for hasty production and it demands good direction. The presentation is simple and the columnar instructions make the small parts particularly interesting.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Herschel Colbert and Fannie Marie Schulte, which will take place Thanksgiving day at her home in Gallatin. Mr. Colbert is editor of the daily paper, Monitor-Index at Moberly. Miss Schulte was a student at M. U. and is a graduate of Northwestern University at Chicago.

Miss Mabel Arnett entertained at luncheon at the Come Again Tea Room, Saturday noon, November 6, Jerene Neal and Dora Mohler of Bedford, Ia., and Helen Baker.

Who's Who On the Football Team.

Everything has a center and on the football team it is Dick. He is nineteen, a Freshman, an athlete, a Republican, a quiet, and an affectionate boy.

He played three years on the Maryville High School basket ball team and two years on the football team. This year he is center on the S. T. C. football team.

Dick is a normal boy—he studies hard, chews gum, does not smoke, always hungry, and hates to get up on a cold morning.

His home is in Coffeyville, Kansas, and we do not know whether it is the town, the college, or something else that draws him here, but anyway we know his motto: "Oh, dett, where is thy swing?"

Malcolm Wells, alias Joe Wells, alias Tubby Wells is a veteran on this team. This is his third year on the team. Tubby is not only a good tackle but is also a good clown. He furnishes amusement for the whole squad. His good nature and generosity have endeared him to his team mates.

His strength however, all lies below his collar button. His ambition is to revisit Springfield, Missouri and spend a week in the ten cent stores.

John Lawton, better known as Mike, is playing his fourth year with the S. T. C. football team. Mike is dependable—the kind that thinks before he plays. If he is told to hold down a position he holds it down. The fact that he never gives up is his strongest point and he is almost as attentive to his opponent in the line as he is to Edith. A bum ankle, his tendency to linger in the library when he should be on the field, and the sending of telegrams and special delivery letters when away on football trips might be summed up as Mike's weak points.

Webb comes here from Pattonsburg. He played on the high school team there and played on the Freshman squad at M. U., the fall of 1919. He plays right half back. He is a consistent player of football and of words. He was playing secondary defense in the Westminster game when a ball was kicked over his head. He afterwards asked the referee if it would have been legal for him to have caught it. The referee answered, "Yes," and Webb said, "Well, if I would have knowed I could have ketchd it, I'd a tried to have done it."

Now do not worry about Webb. We think he was only getting this out of his system before "Good speech Week."

Paul Pickens, better known to us as "Piekey" is playing his fourth year at fullback in football. He played two years on the Maryville High School team, being captain of the team during the fall of 1917.

He played for Maryville Normal during the fall of 1918—that memorable year when we beat Tarkio. Pickens is a good football man. These words, "we must" mean to Piekey, "we will" and he does his utmost to prove it.

Besides a good football record, Pickens has a good scholastic record, that of being an E student. That is, his instructors say he would be if he were only not so timid in class about giving forth the knowledge that he has. Nevertheless we are for you, Pickens.

Hollis R. Hays lives four and one-half miles west of Skidmore. He spent his high school days in Skidmore and is now a college freshman. Hays has never played football until this year. He is a good hard tackler and has the making of a fine player. His weakest point is above the shoulders but his good traits far overshadow any weak ones that he may have.

Eldon Steiger, entered S. T. C. this fall, having spent four years in the Ravenwood high school, where he was a star basket ball player. Football, however, was quite a new experience but he soon showed his ability in playing end on the team.

His weakest point is due to the fact that he is bowlegged, but in spite of that the girls say he is a graceful dancer.

Charlie Wells, senior class president, an all-round athlete and in his spare time, a dairyman, is the object of this discussion. Charlie received his high school education in S. T. C., before the days of football here. On the football field he is commonly known as "Chuck." He is the best type of football player; in addition to his weight he is a swift runner and a hard tackler; he is cool headed, able to think and to analyze his plays well. The chief objection to him as a football player is that he is so nearly red haired.

Jay Puckett has summed up Charlie's career as a dairyman: "Wells, that certainly is an appropriate name for a dairyman."

William Mapel, commonly known as Sister, is on the football squad. He played on high school teams before coming here.

One of his strong points is his silence and another is his appetite. He drinks cream while the rest of the squad drink skim milk. But that does not keep him from galloping around over the field causing trouble for his opponents.

Paul Miller, captain of the team, came to us after playing three years on the Maryville High School football team. He plays quarter-back. We think Doc would be well educated if school were one continuous football trip; for as soon as he starts on a trip he begins to read. One of his favorite books is "Peary at the North Pole."

Doc is a steady player and manages the team well.

Jay Puckett has played half back on the team for three years; and men who have played on the team with him say that they never have seen him excited.

Jay always plays for the good of the team and never for the grandstand. He is a great talker for sometimes he says half a dozen words in an hour. His weakest point is his love for El Retina cigars and hard cider.

Our right guard is Jesse Boatman. He has had two years' experience in football on the Maryville High School team. Jesse is rather young for a college team but nevertheless he plays his position like a veteran. He is a hard hitter and adds strength to our line. His only weakness is his ambition to be coach.

Prudence, the daughter, just budding into womanhood was done by Miss Helwig.

Some of the best scenes played by Prudence were with Franz Huidekoper, her lover, whose part was most excellently taken by Miss Winn.

Miss MacLeod, as Jan Huidekoper, a native of Holland and father of Franz, gave an unusually good picture of Dutch life and manners in the seventeenth century.

The garden setting and the Puritan costumes added much to the charm of the little play and it was enthusiastically received.

Miss Miller introduced the subject of the evening by a short talk on the ideals of the Puritans.

Following the program a social hour was spent. Refreshments of gooseberry tarts and tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Leeson and Miss Dow, assisted by the president, Miss DeLuce, the secretary, Miss Helwig and the chairman of the program committee, Miss Winn.

Five new members were added to the association.

The members of the Association and their guests included the following: The Misses Olive DeLuce, Beatrix Winn, Katherine Helwig, Mabel Arnett, Margaret James, Mary MacLeod, Blanche Dow, Beulah Brunner, Mildred Miller, Laura Hawkins, Edna Johnaber, Laura Craig, Katherine Carpenter, Anna Bainum, Aroline Smith, Ora Barmann, Anne Shannon Evans, Minnie James, Orril Helwig, Lucile Aairy, Geneva Wilfley, LaDonia Murphy, Mrs. C. E. Leeson, Mrs. Caroline Leet, Mrs. G. H. Colbert, Mrs. Ed Gray, Mrs. D. R. Baker, Mrs. Chas. T. Bell, Mrs. H. C. Griffin, and Mrs. Gallatin Craig.

Miss Ballard's mother has been very ill for the past two weeks but is improving at this time.

Mrs. Bernice Erickson, formerly Bernice McGinness, has resigned her position as teacher of the Douglas School six miles southeast of Maryville.

Miss Hettie M. Anthony visited Friday, Nov. 5 at the school taught by Ruth Jones, a former student of S. T. C.

Miss Jerene Neal, a former S. T. C. student and Miss Dora Mohler, a former student of Miss MacLeod at Cornell College, spent Saturday, Nov. 6 as the guests of Miss MacLeod and Miss Mabel Arnett.

The Rosendale Boys' Basketball team played at Union Star, Nov. 5. The final score was 73-5 in favor of Rosendale.

The Rosendale girls who have played seven games this season, lost their first game at Union Star by a score of 21-22.

Smithville.

The Smithville High School football team has won every game played in the conference this year. The games are as follows:

- S. H. S. 13—Lathrop 0.
- S. H. S. 0—St. Joseph Central 38.
- S. H. S. 42—Excelsior Springs 0.
- S. H. S. 60—Weston 0.
- S. H. S. 22—Richmond 0.
- S. H. S. 27—Hamilton 0.

As St. Joseph Central is not a conference team, this game does not count against the Smithville percentage.

The Smithville team is the strongest in the history of the school. Last year they were awarded fourth place in the pick of championship teams. This year they expect to gain a higher place.

Chillicothe.

Chillicothe has played three football games this season and has not lost a game.

The first game of the season was with Pattonsburg. Chillicothe won this game with a score of 19-0.

The next week they played Maysville. Chillicothe made eight touchdowns and kicked successfully five times making a total score of 53-0.

A third consecutive victory was won when they played Hamilton. The score was 13-12.

Excelsior Springs.

Excelsior Springs lost the first football game to Liberty in six years, Friday, October 22.

Tina.

With fifty per cent of its schedule of county conference games played, the boys' basketball team has won 100 per cent of its games, being the only team in the county with such a record. The girls' team has won three games and lost only one. In the last game played, the girls held Bosworth to a score of 11-0.

The boys of the Vocational Agriculture class entered about fifty hogs in the recent community fair held in Tina. They won about 75 per cent of the blue ribbons in the classes entered. These premiums were won in a show of 150 entries of the keenest competition. In the pure bred sale at the same time almost $1000 worth of hogs were sold at auction by the class.

The French class of Tina High School is carrying on an interesting exchange of letters with correspondents in France.

Three of the high school faculty members, Supt. S. C. Richeson, Minnie M. Kennedy, and Vutura Faubion are S. T. C. graduates.

Maysville.

Mr. Flint, instructor of Vocational Agriculture in the Maysville High School, took representatives of his vocational classes to the Corn Show at Albany. Class II won first prize in stock judging and brought home the cup. Class I won second prize in corn judging.

They have been defeated only once this year; that was a defeat by Cameron. They play Smithville later in the season to decide the winner for the two sub-districts. Joe Ferguson, a former student is coach of the team. Ed Malotte is superintendent of the school.

Gaynor.

A community fair was held at Gaynor, Friday, Nov. 5, in which five school districts were represented. An excellent dinner was served at noon after which a program was given consisting of talks by some of the faculty members of S. T. C., and recitations and songs by the school children. A large display of projects which were judged by Miss Brunner, Mr. Miller, Mr. Burr and Miss ViJune Colden were said to be unusually good.

Miss Colden and Miss Brunner spoke on "School Lunches" and the "Work of the School in connection with Hot Lunches." Mr. Miller discussed "The Home and its Relation to the Schools."

Gaynor now has a two year high school but steps are being taken towards a four-year course and consolidation is being considered.

The College and the Pilgrims.

directions for its presentation as at the University of California (Greek Theatre) and at the Columbia University Gymnasium may be obtained for $1.50 from the author, Constance Smedley Arnfield, the Greenleaf Theatre Studio, 10 West 40th Street, New York.

The best obtainable pageant relating to the Jamestown settlement is "A Dream of Gold" by Augusta Stevenson. It is published by Houghton, Mifflin Co., Boston, Mass.

Mimeographed copies of "For Liberty and the Rights of Man," a pageant scene by Elizabeth Grimball, commemorating the first legislative assembly in Virginia may be secured from Community Service, (Incorporated) 1 Madison Avenue, New York, at the price of 25 cents.

"The Pilgrims," a pageant published in the April number of the Woman's Home Companion was written by Constance D'Arcy Mackay especially for the Tercentenary Celebration. This pageant deals with the early settlement of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, where one of the Pilgrims, half dreaming over his book, sees a vision of America in the future years. Thru this vision all the great men and women of America appear, thus making the pageant relate definitely to the whole country, north, east, south and west. The pageant contains dialogue, pantomime, tableaux and processional effects as well as symbolic dances and folk dances. Full stage directions and practical suggestions for the costumes accompany the pageant text. There is no royalty.

Several Pilgrim plays of interest are "A Rose O'Plymouth Town," by Beulah Marie Dix and Evelyn Sutherland; "Standish of Standish" by Annie Russell Marble; "Sojourners," a one act play by Anna Harnwell and Isabelle Meeker, published in a September number of the Drama; "The Scarecrow," by Percy Mackaye; "Children of Earth," by Alice Brown; "Governor Endicott," and "Giles Corey, Yeoman," by Longfellow; "Superstition," by James Nelson Barker; and "The Courtship of Miles Standish" by Eugene W. Presbry. "A Pageant of Pilgrims" by Esther Willard Bates; and "Faith of Our Fathers," by Annie Russell Marble, are two other pageants dealing with Puritan New England.

Percy's Mackaye's "The Pilgrim and the Book," a dramatic service of the Bible, is being issued by The American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York. This service, the first of its kind, is designed to be used in churches of all denominations.

The "Life of the Corn" is a superb bit of Indian pantomime. It contains fine dances with authentic Indian music and choruses. It can be found in "Indian Games and Dances with Native Songs," by Alice C. Fletcher, published by C. C. Birchard and Company, Boston, Mass., price $1.00. This particular dance-drama depicts the life of the Omaha Indians but as the corn dance and ceremonial was used by all of the North American Indians, it is adaptable for purposes of the Tercentenary Celebration. In the ethnological notes to Longfellow's Hiawatha will be found a description of an ancient dance of the corn as given by the Indian tribes of the Eastern seaboard. The "Life of the Corn" is simply a variant of this dance. It is rich in color and dramatic effect, with Indian and symbolic costumes which are indicated in the text. At least fifty young people can take part in it. And as many more as desired can participate. There must be seven special "Dance Leaders" who are skilled in dancing and in pantomime. There should be an accompanying chorus of at least twenty-five voices. Words, music and full description of each dance are given. It is essentially a drama for outdoor production, and there is no royalty.

A number of songs linked with the Pilgrim celebration are included in the suggested musical program outlined by the music bureau of Community Service, Incorporated.

Clearly there lies before the American colleges and schools an opportunity and a duty. The Pilgrims were the early seekers after freedom and light, and the right to think and learn according to their desires and tenets.

The American college today perpetuates the vision and the high ideals of the Pilgrim Fathers. It is fitting that upon American college soil the commemorative exercises of this Tercentenary should find special footing.

Suggestions for the celebration of the Pilgrim Tercentenary prepared by Constance D'Arcy Mackay have appeared in The Playground. This material may be secured in mimeographed form by application to Community Service (Incorporated), One Madison Avenue, New York City.

The Stroller.

Never did the Stroller see people crowd so much into three days as the S. T. C. students did last week. The Stroller strolled as usual but everytime he chanced upon a choice morsel of gossip it turned out to be chimerical.

He did go to the Commercial Club dinner Monday evening and heard Mr. Swinehart explain his position as buffer for the school. She now understands why his head is so smooth and shiny on top.

The Stroller wishes that there would be another football game so she could see Lee Meek in his green jacket and white trousers, stretching his mouth from ear to ear and yelling for S. T. C. The Stroller thought Luther DeMoss was cute in his role as assistant yell leader and so were the girls that added so much to the pep of the student body.

The Stroller hopes that all enjoyed the two days' vacation as much as he did and that they are now ready to manufacture material for the Stroller's mille.

SCHOOL WEEK TO BE OBSERVED DEC. 5-11.

larger amount of space to education topics than usual.

That on Sunday, Dec. 5, ministers should use one or more of their church services for emphasizing the importance of education.

That other religious organizations, Young Men's and Women's Christian Associations, Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Associations, in the churches should devote their meetings on this day to discussions of the value of education and urge upon young people the importance of their taking advantage of all possible opportunities for increase of knowledge and the perfecting of their training.

That during the week all women's clubs, parent-teacher associations, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, and other important organizations, labor unions, farmers' unions, and all patriotic and civic societies should devote one meeting to a discussion of the needs of education in their States and local communities, holding special meetings for this purpose if necessary.

That moving picture houses should put on the screens this week, facts and figures in regard to the importance of education and the conditions and needs of the schools.

That in all universities, colleges, and normal schools the convocation hours of the week should be devoted to a discussion of education in general and of their own particular needs.

That in all elementary and high schools teachers should devote one period during each day of the week to this subject, telling the children about education in their local communities and in State and Nation, how the schools are supported and how much money is spent for them, their economic, social, and civic value, and other facts of interest, such information as many schools give in regard to other subjects.

That all school and debating societies holding meetings during the week take for their subject of debate some topic relating to education in local community, city, county, or state.

That during this week themes of essays and compositions in elementary and high schools relate to education.

That on Friday afternoon and evening community meetings in the interest of education should be held at all schoolhouses, both in city and country, for the purpose of discussing the condition and needs of the schools of the several communities, the means of meeting these needs, and of remedying conditions.

It is further suggested that State departments of education should provide information thru the public press and otherwise in regard to conditions and needs of schools in the several states; that city and county superintendents likewise provide information in regard to the condition and needs of schools in their cities and counties; and that city and county superintendents of schools should hold meetings of their teachers on Friday or Saturday of the week before for the purpose of discussing these problems among themselves and making definite plans for the proper observance of the week in school and for Friday afternoon and evening meetings.

Watch later editions of this paper for further suggestions in regard to the observance of this week.

Miss Miller Arranges Exhibit in Kansas City.

Miss Mildred Miller left Wednesday, November 10th for Kansas City where she superintended the arrangement of the Vitalized Agriculture exhibit in Convention Hall. This exhibit came from all rural schools doing vitalized agriculture work.

The projects for this year are soil, home, and community. Some home conveniences exhibited will be, kitchen dollies, knife racks, medicine chests, folding shelves, knife boxes, table leg lengtheners, meat boards, and bread boards.

Other things exhibited will be note books of their work, soils found in various communities, posters showing (1) Well organized kitchens; (2) Plans of home and farm buildings; (3) Plans of fields; (4) Family budgets and (5) Good roads.

Nodaway County expects to have a very good exhibit as the exhibit of the Northwest Teachers Association was the largest that has ever been shown here owing to the fact that now there are more schools teaching vitalized agriculture, than ever before.

Alumni.

"Dad" Scarlett, 1916, who is teaching at Valley City, North Dakota, writes that he is enjoying his work very much. He is in an excellent high school, one of the best in that district. Among his other duties is that of coaching the second football team, which he has succeeded in putting in first place.

Orpha Farris, a former student of S. T. C., who teaches at Elmo spent Saturday, Nov. 6 in St. Joseph.

Marie Landfather, 1919, has been visiting in Maryville at the home of her mother. She teaches in Parnell and her school has been closed the past ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Wilson of Corn- ing, Mo., announce the birth of a son Tuesday, Nov. 2. Mrs. Wilson was Miss Myra Hope, 1915.

Leora Ellwood, B. S., 1917, a former student and at one time assistant in the Home Economics Department, is in Boulder, Colo., where she and her sister are conducting a Bide-a-Wee Tea Room.

Miss Pearl Wilkerson, B. S. 1919, and Mr. Fred E. Vandersloot, B. S. 1917, accompanied the pupils of the fourth grade to the plant of the Larabee Flour Mills Corporation, Nov. 5. This was done in connection with carrying out the project method.

A guide showed the forty pupils thru the big mill, following the wheat from floor to floor in the milling process. In the study of wheat the class in a series of compositions, starts at its sowing, the states where grown, soil best adapted to its culture, the food value of the flour, by-products and other subjects pertaining thereto.

Alyce Leeper, B. S., 1920, was a guest at Perrin Hall, November 5-7.

Jennie Getz, 1920, visited Nov. 7, at Perrin Hall.

Assembly Notes.

The assembly opened Tuesday morning with singing. A new song was learned. Dr. Keller led the devotions and gave a short address.

"Every life that is great and noble takes some time to itself. We have to come in contact with our fellow-men but we also must come in contact with nature for meditation. Everyone of us must learn that we must take self-communion. We feel renewed afterwards. Then we can gather together and give to the world what it needs. Learn to enjoy your own company for assimilation to gain the highest worth. One of the great faults of student life is that they have not learned to commune with themselves. It is the duty of the faculty to give their best to the students and it is their duty to commune with themselves to do their fullest and best." This was Dr. Keller's message.

General announcements were given by President Richardson who also praised our team for their excellent work and the students for their pep last Friday.

Large Crowd Attends High Prairie Community Fair.

A large crowd attended the community fair held at the High Prairie school near Elmo, Friday, Nov. 5. There were exhibits of school work, vitalized agriculture work, corn, grain and garden products, sewing, and cooking. At noon an exceptionally good dinner was served. After which the prizes were awarded and a program was furnished by some of the guests.

Miss Hettie M. Anthony and Dr. Fred Keller of S. T. C., complimented the patrons on their fair and their school. Miss Anthony in speaking on "Citizenship," said: "It is the duty of every community to provide for its boys and girls a beautiful environment in order that they may grow into beautiful and good men and women."

Dr. Keller said: "It is the duty of every school district to produce good citizens, good farmers, teachers, preachers, lawyers, doctors, etc. The community must accomplish this. It may have a leader, but leaders change, while the community remains the same."

R. A. Kinnard, county agent, spoke about the farm bureau. Bert Cooper discussed vitalized agriculture and its relation to the community.

The patrons and teachers have already begun discussing plans for a repetition of the fair next year. The exhibits were judged by Mr. Kinnard, Miss Anthony, Dr. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper.

Miss O'Neal is the teacher of the school.
